Hi Everyone,

I'm still busily catching up with the manuscripts and reprints that accumulated last year. Astrolocality Astrology: A Guide to What it is and How to Use it by Martin Davis was only the second book we published some 18 years ago, and the time had come for a revision; smart readers will realise that it is also very appropriately the beginning of a new nodal cycle. The new version of the book includes two new chapters, on Ronnie Biggs and Edward Snowden, and it has a clearer layout which should help beginners to understand the techniques more easily. The more complicated information has now been moved to the back of the book, and we've added an Index. Most astrology software now includes an astro-mapping element so we hope that more people will be able to explore this truly fascinating area of astrology than when the book first came out. The new version is also a bit cheaper: £13.00 plus postage.

Once you are well and truly hooked on astro-mapping, you might want to take a look at From Here to There: An Astrologer's Guide to Astromapping. Edited and introduced by Martin, the book contains contributions from well-known astrologers who use these techniques. They are: Bernadette Brady, Kathryn Cassidy, Donna Cunningham, Robert Currey, Dennis Flaherty, Arielle Guttman, A.T. Mann, Chris McRae, David Meadows, Dale O'Brien, Angel Thompson and Maya White. The book is £20.00 plus postage, and if you want to follow up all the exciting things you have learnt you can seek out Martin's Facebook group, the Astro Mapping Discussion Group.

Both books are of course available from us, online booksellers or a good bookshop near you. Enjoy!

Free back issues of TMA!

We still have a lot of back issues available to individuals or local groups who are willing to pay postage.
