Hey lovely people,

There is a whole load of stuff to tell you, the most important being that you need to get your orders in early this year. Why? Firstly, because the office will be closed from 17th November for two weeks while we chase the sun for a bit of vitamin D to top up the tanks. But most importantly, it is getting close to that time of year again and you really do need to shop early to avoid disappointment. The beautiful range of Astrocal products gets more popular every year and last year we all ran out of stock by early December. Details below.

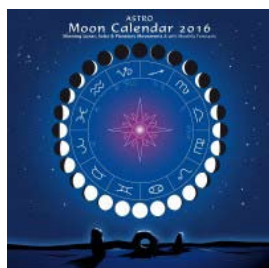

We also have some amazing new books since I was last in touch. A new offering from Bob Makransky, Planetary Hours, teaches us how to use the traditional technique in much finer detail. An excellent and rigorous astrologer, Bob is also a shaman, so expect guidance for when and how to cast spells amongst many more bits of useful information. A lovely stocking-filler for a pagan friend for just £11.00 plus postage. It is also on special offer when you buy it with Planetary Strength (usually £11.99) - buy the two together for £18.00 plus postage.

And we are very excited to be publishing the long-awaited third volume of the Introduction to Psychological Astrology series, Mapping the Psyche by Clare Martin. Volume 3: Kairos - The Astrology of Time, covers transits, returns, progressions and directions and has a fascinating case study of Dante Gabriel Rossetti. The seminar format includes answers to questions from the students, so this series is ideal for beginners. £16.99 plus postage. What is even more wonderful is that we are also reprinting Mapping the Psyche Volume 1 and Volume 2 in the Spring. We will shout a lot about that when it happens, believe me.

The Astrocal Section

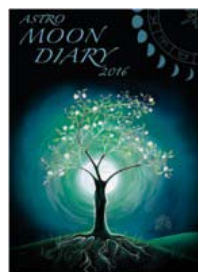

Each year the Astrocal range becomes a bit more beautiful and I have to say that this year those lovely folk have excelled themselves. Just have a look at these:

The beautiful Moon Diary 2016

Plain but Pretty Notebooks

Set of four A6 pocket-sized notebooks, covers celebrating the seasons of the year. Each one has 48 plain paper pages for drawing or writing. £9.99 plus postage.

The Silver Moon Phase Poster 2016

How much more gorgeous can it get? Featuring the Fernworthy stone circle on Dartmoor, it shows the Moon phase and sign for each day as well as Full and New Moon positions. Measures 30 x 87.5 cm. £6.99 plus postage.
